SEED the Series Art Contest Proposal and Rules

We are about to publish the scripts for the first 4 episodes of SEED as a book. We'd like to incorporate 10 original works of art within it to enhance the reader's experience. So this is our proposal:

We have 10 scenes selected from the 4 scripts for artists to choose from. Rob Skiba and another judge (to be decided) will select the Top 10 pieces of art for each scene submitted. The Top 10 pieces of art for each scene category will then be displayed on a special gallery page on the SEED website, with full artist credit and contact information provided. A video will also be released on Rob Skiba's YouTube channel showing the Top 10 winner selections to his 120,000+ subscribers - so this should give each artist plenty of exposure. Out of the Top 10 pictures selected for each of the 10 scenes, one will be chosen from each category as the best and published in the book - again with full artist credit and contact information provided.

We only have a budget of $1,000 for this project. We know that's not a whole lot of money, but it's what we have to work with, so we will be paying $100 for each piece of art we select for use in the book. This means, an artist can potentially earn $100 for multiple pieces. Since this is our limited budget, we're sorry, but no pay is being offered for any of the pictures submitted that do not make it into the book. All decisions will be final.

The artwork being created will be based on and derived from our proprietary intellectual property. Therefore, all artists will be required to sign our standard Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) before being sent the scenes from the scripts. By participating in this competition, the artists whose works are chosen in the Top Ten will also be granting full legal rights to their artwork to King's Gate Media, LLC, allowing us the exclusive ability to use their artwork for any SEED related promotion, product or service indefinitely. Since this participation is 100% voluntary, and these rules are established up front, we ask that only those serious about helping us with this project apply.

RULES:

- The dimensions for each piece of artwork needs to be 7" X 9" (or scalable DOWN to those dimensions) in a vertical format - i.e. 7 inches wide by 9 inches tall. NOTE: You can utilize that space for more than one picture.
- Final artwork needs to be submitted at 300 dpi resolution in RGB format and saved as a JPG file.
- Full color pictures are preferable (but not mandatory) for all scenes. However, for the purpose of the book, they may end up being depicted in black and white. If so, King's Gate Media, LLC will handle the conversion. The color versions may also end up being used for other promotional pieces on-line and possibly for poster art and/or other marketing pieces. Any artwork submitted in black and white may still end up being colored for those purposes.
- Artists should provide their name and any of the following pieces of contact info: a website URL, email address and/or phone number. Remember, your artwork may potentially be seen by hundreds of thousands of people, so take care what you choose to share. The only thing that is mandatory is your name. DO NOT PUT ANY OF THIS INFORMATION ON THE ARTWORK ITSELF. This information will be included as text provided by King's Gate Media, LLC either beside or under the picture or in the acknowledgements section of the book (or both).
- DEADLINE: All entries must be submitted by March 15, 2018.
